Studia Series of the Anthropos Institute

Ethnological research has changed dramatically in recent years. The unremitting spread of Western industrial civilization has led to a devaluation of regional and local cultures. As a result, the Anthropos Institute has taken on the task of promoting the preservation of surviving cultures and languages, in order to accentuate the diversity of creation and to recognize the basic right of mankind to cultural self-determination.

The Studia series would like to foster and contribute to the investigation and preservation of cultures. Works published in this series are monographs of ethnological and religious-ethnological character, be they dissertations or other independent results of research. Manuscripts are welcomed. They will be read and, if appropriate, accepted for publication.

Manuscripts should be sent to
